Ballybane Community Garden

Located on Castlepark Road in Ballybane Across from the Library and near Ballybane Church.

Ballybane Community Garden was set up in 2006. The garden initially comprised 1,200 sq metres and was so successful that an additional 1,500 square metres was added in 2008. The garden is managed by a voluntary committee. Participants come from all social groups and all ages including adults, young people, children, older people, groups with disabilities, both physical and mental, travellers and migrants. A wide variety of vegetables, fruit and herbs are grown and participants share the produce and donate surplus to local charities. All crops grown in the garden are propagated on site and grown from seed to harvest. A full range of crops are grown outdoors and under cover including carrot, cabbage, pumpkin, onion, scallion, potato, leek, celery, artichoke, sweetcorn, tomato, pea, runner bean, lettuce, spinach, rocket, broad bean, parsnip, garlic, broccoli, cauliflower and swedes. News volunteers are always welcome.
